PARTNERSHIP

Art. 1767. By the contract of partnership two or more persons bind themselves to contribute money, property, or industry to a common fund with the intention of dividing the profits among themselves.

Definition

Partnership is a contract whereby two or more persons bind themselves to contribute money, property or industry to a common fund with the intention of dividing profits among themselves.

Elements

1. Intention to form a contract of partnership
2. Participation in both profits and losses
3. Community of interests

Basic Features

1. Voluntary agreement
2. Association for profit
3. Mutual contribution to a common fund
4. Lawful purpose or object
5. Mutual agency of partners
6. Articles must not be kept secret
7. Separate juridical personality

Characteristics

1. Consensual – perfected by mere consent.
2. Bilateral – formed by two or more persons creating reciprocal rights and obligations.
3. Preparatory - entered into as a means to an end.
4. Nominate – has a special name or designation.
5. Onerous – contributions in the form of either money, property and/or industry must be made.
6. Commutative – the undertaking of each partner is considered as the equivalent of that of the others.
7. Principal – its existence or validity does not depend on some other contract.

Principle of Delectus Personae (choice of persons) – a person has the right to select persons with whom he wants to be associated with in partnership.

Art. 1768. The partnership has a juridical personality separate and distinct from that of each of the partners even in case of failure to comply with the requirements of Article 1772, first paragraph.

Partnership, a juridical person

As an independent juridical person, a partnership may enter into contracts, acquire and possess property of all kinds in its name, as well as incur obligations and bring civil or criminal actions. Thus, a partnership may be declared insolvent even if the partners are not. It may enter into contracts and may sue and be sued in its firm name or by its duly authorized representative. It is sufficient that service of summons be served on any partner.

Partners cannot be held liable for the obligations of the partnership unless it is shown that the legal fiction of a different juridical personality is being used for a fraudulent, unfair or illegal purpose.

Effect of failure to comply with statutory requirements

Under Art 1772

Partnership still acquires personality despite failure to comply with the requirements of execution of public instrument and registration of name in SEC.

Under Arts 1773 and 1775

Partnership with immovable property contributed, if without requisite inventory, signed and attached to public instrument, shall not acquire any juridical personality because the contract itself is void. This is also true for secret associations or societies.

To organize a partnership not an absolute right

It is but a privilege which may be enjoyed only under such terms as the State may deem necessary to impose.

Art. 1769. In determining whether a partnership exists, these rules shall apply:

1. Except as provided by Article 1825, persons who are not partners as to each other are not partners as to third persons.
2. Co-ownership or co-possession does not of itself establish a partnership, whether such co-ownership or co-possession do or do not share any profits made by the use of the property.
